Our training covers: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>✓ Fundamental Flight Skills – Take-offs, landings, normal &amp; crosswind circuits, touch-and-go landings.</li> <li>✓ Advanced Maneuvers – Steep turns, slow flight, stalls (power-on &amp; power-off), spins, chandelles, lazy eights, and short-field &amp; soft-field take-offs and landings.</li> <li>✓ Emergency Procedures – Engine failures, forced landings, precautionary landings, rejected take-offs, go-arounds, and emergency descents.</li> <li>✓ Navigation &amp; Cross-Country Flights – VFR &amp; IFR navigation, radio navigation (VOR, ADF, GPS), diversion procedures, and flight planning.</li> <li>✓ Instrument &amp; Night Flying – Attitude flying, partial panel flying, holding patterns, ILS &amp; RNAV approaches, and night circuits.</li> <li>✓ Full PPL &amp; CPL Syllabus – Covering all required exercises and flight tests.</li> <li>✓ Unlimited Practice—Train in an ultra-realistic environment with live weather, real-time ATC, and high-quality flight graphics. This is nothing more than a gimmick, creating an illusion of training without real learning. With potentially hundreds of essential exercises, it is impossible to gain the required skills in just 20 hours. Proper flight training demands serious practice, not shortcuts. However, at SJAA, we believe in providing quality training without financial burden—we do not charge any hourly fees for simulator training. To do all exercises one might need on average 200 to 250 hours of simulator training. Simulator training is typically charged separately by other academies, with rates ranging from ₹500 to ₹3000 per hour. Over 200 hours, this could amount to a staggering ₹1,00,000 to ₹6,00,000.	₹ 300,000
